REMINDERS

Have a wonderful and restful break!

We can't wait to hear about all of your spring adventures!

OUR WEEK OF LEARNING

Reading: We're reading Pay if Forward. Each chapter is written from a different character's perspective. We're exploring these perspectives to help with character development in our own fiction writing.

Writing: We spent the week before break brainstorming and free writing, now we're diving into fiction.

Math: We're wrapping up unit 7 with fraction, decimal, and measurement comparison multi-step number stories. These are tricky, but such great practice.

Theme: We're jumping back into science and exploring how dolphins communicate!

Spelling: Double consonants or two consonants in between syllables change the pronunciation of a vowel. For example, dinner vs. diner and basket vs. crazy.

Grammar: Subject, object, and possessive pronoun review.
