OUR WEEK OF LEARNING

Reading: We're continuing to work on reader response using the acronym RACE: restate the question, answer the question, cite your evidence, explain your thinking.

Writing: We're completing one last opinion writing piece. The question is, which invention was more impactful, the telephone or the gasoline-powered engine?

Math: We're applying our knowledge of adding and subtracting fractions and mixed numbers to information analysis on a line plot.

Theme: We're working through Colorado geography. We're focusing on the human and physical characteristics of the five regions: High Plains, Front Range, San Luis Valley, Mountains, and Western Slope.
