OUR WEEK OF LEARNING

Reading: We're continuing our study of inferring. We're using evidence in reader response questions.

Writing: We're learning to craft great beginnings and endings to our narratives. How do you get the reader interested in your story? How do you wrap it up?

Math: We're finishing up our big place value unit by revisiting the standard algorithm for addition and subtraction. We're focusing on dealing with the zeros.

Theme: We're learning about explorers who came to Colorado after the Spanish. You might recognize names like Pike, Long, James, and Fremont. Ask us about the Louisiana Purchase.
