OUR WEEK OF LEARNING

Reading: We're reading nonfiction texts about farm workers, unions, and leaders. We'll compare and contrast these different texts in written responses.

Writing: We're using articles, maps, and diary entries about the Oregon Trail to create our own historical narratives. We're also creating group newscast skits about the gold rush for a collaborative green screen video project with Ms. Moran.

Math: We're jumping into Unit 6. This is all about multiplying and dividing multi-digit numbers using partial products and partial quotients. Read more here.

Theme: We're learning all about the ghost towns (formerly boom towns and supply towns) of Colorado.
