OUR WEEK OF LEARNING

Reading: We're diving into elements of fiction texts. We're focusing on setting and point of view.

Writing: We're continuing to work on crafting an organized and insightful paragraph. We're using rubrics to examine other paragraphs and then our own.

Math: We're looking at numerators and denominators as well as using multiples and factors to compare and order fractions.

Theme: We're examining volcanoes, lava, and rocks to make create a body of evidence to inform our hypotheses. How did rhinoceros and camel fossils end up in Nebraska?
