OUR WEEK OF LEARNING

Reading: We're learning how text features help us understand expository texts.

Writing: We're exploring nonfiction writing and topics of interest before drafting our own pieces.

Math: We spent the last week getting used to our new curriculum, now we're ready to go. Unit 1 is all about factors and multiples. Here's more information.

Theme: Last week we learned about tendons and built robot fingers. This week we're diving into the structure of the human eye and focusing on the retina!

Social/Emotional: We're learning the science behind saying thank you and starting a gratitude project.
