OUR WEEK OF LEARNING

Reading: We're getting the hang of reading workshop. We use Google Classroom for reader response, book logs, spelling, grammar, and vocabulary.

Writing: We're all processing the last five months differently, so we're reviewing the personal narrative with a vivid memory from the spring/summer.

Math: We're jumping into the curriculum with place value and rounding strategies.

Theme: It's social studies time. We're learning about rules, laws, and expectations.

Social/Emotional: We're officially starting The Gratitude Project. Stay tuned for more information.
